"Friendship"

Ecclesiastes 4:9-10, Proverbs 18:24

King Solomon, in all his wisdom, tells us that "two are better than one" - which is represented by the two urns in the central panel. "If one should fall down, his companion shall lift him up, but woe to the one who falls when there is not another to lift him up." Friends "there to share laughter, tears, accomplishments, defeats, words of wisdom, and comforting silence." Even greater than the companion who stays by our side is a God who will fill both lives to the fullest when they abide in Him. Friendship "brought together with the love of Jesus, the "Friend who sticks closer than a brother." "This three-fold cord is not easily broken."
